Feld & Volk Joins TwentyFirst Luxury Holding

Feld & Volk, the world's leading expert in the creation of exclusive luxury mobile devices, headquartered in Moscow, Russia, has been acquired by the TwentyFirst Luxury Holdings, Geneva, Switzerland.

The Geneva-based investment group takes interest in the high-potential companies of the luxury technology market. Feld & Volk will join the previously acquired Hadoro Paris brand; together the brands will be renamed Hadoro Group, which will continue designing luxury mobile devices and accessories under the brands Hadoro and Hadoro Paris.

Hadoro Group will pursue developed and emerging markets, accelerating growth and taking a strong leader's position in the fast-growing sector of premium customized mobile devices. The clients will benefit greatly from the group's unilateral view on delivering excellent products, developing exclusive materials and projects, commitment to innovation and solutions to enhance client service.

Made-to-order mobile devices for private and corporate clients will continue to be designed and produced by the Feld & Volk Atelier, which will operate as an in-house branch of the Hadoro Group.
